

Hi [Manager's Name],

I'm writing to request support to attend the Second Nature Retreat, hosted by Modus Digital from January 27- 29, 2027, in Upstate New York.

This is a catalytic experience designed for seasoned executives leading AI and change management. Here's what I'll get:

- Interactive workshops on complex systems theory, organic models of change, emergent strategy, and design thinking
- Peer-to-peer problem-solving with a curated group of high-caliber leaders tackling similar challenges.
- Restorative practices (hiking, breathwork, solo reflection) intentionally built to surface breakthrough insight.

Why this matters for us:

- Enhanced leadership resilience. The retreat offers concrete tools for navigating ambiguity, managing burnout, and driving aligned execution under pressure.
- Strategic clarity. I'll return with sharper frameworks for prioritization and alignment, including a 30/60/90-day roadmap—benefiting both short-term delivery and long-term planning.
- Curated network. Access to an exec peer group can catalyze cross-industry insights, best practices, and even partnerships that serve our work.

The investment is $4,000—covers programming, meals, and lodging. I'll cover my own transportation.

Can we discuss this soon? I'm confident the experience will bring real ROI to our mission—and help me lead more effectively.

Thanks for considering,
